Are you interested in a fulfilling career that combines neuroscience, advocacy, and patient care?

The American Association for Geriatric Psychiatry (AAGP) is hosting its inaugural AAGP Undergraduate Experience Day! Learn about advances in dementia research and psychiatric care from leaders in the field, talk to geriatric psychiatrists about their work and their journey, and meet like-minded students.

This event is free to attend and will be held during the 2023 AAGP Annual Meeting in New Orleans, Louisiana. Plan to attend the conference Poster Session and Reception immediately following, business attire required.
